

Message in the Music

Happy Days, A New Musical

[Spoken: What you've gotta do is, listen to the music...]

PINKY TUSCADERO

Maybe you'll find a message in the music
The drummer could be speaking to your soul
When you tune into the groove
And let your body move
You're playing with the power of Rock and Roll

There's harmonies that can pick you up and hold you (harmonies pick you up)

A rhythm that has gospel at its core (gospel rhythm)

When the feeling gets so strong

That the singer and his song

Get you out of your seat and spin you 'cross the floor

It's 'cause music is the language of romance

And lovers don't need words when they can dance

Music is the language of romance

And lovers don't need words when they can dance

Music is the language of romance

And lovers don't need words when they can dance

[dance break]

Baby!

Baby you've found!

Bay you found a message

Baby you've found a message in the music!

Baby you've found a message in the music!

...

Baby you've found a message in the music!